TDX ranked in the Top 50 Best Workplaces

TDX named one of the UK's Best Workplaces for the third time

27 May 2011 — Nottingham-based TDX, the UK's leading provider of data-driven debt solutions for creditors, has once again been named one of the UK's Top 50 Best Workplaces in the Great Place to Work[®] Institute's annual rankings. The company features in the list for the third time.

Mark Onyett, CEO of TDX Group, commented: "Being named one of the UK's best places to work for the third time is a fantastic achievement for TDX - especially given the turbulent economic times.

"This award means a lot to us because it is based on first hand feedback from our employees. Our success and growth is down to our talented and creative team. We put a lot of focus on offering challenging and diverse experiences to deliver the best possible solutions to our clients and to make TDX an interesting place to work."

The Great Place to Work[®] Institute UK evaluates the degree of trust in relationships at organisations by analysing employee responses to its Trust Index[®] Employee Survey and Culture Audit[®] management survey. The research encompasses key metrics that determine a leading working environment, including credibility, respect, fairness, pride and camaraderie.

The UK's Best Workplaces Programme is run by the Great Place to Work[®] Institute UK, which runs the world's largest excellence in people programme. A great place to work is one where employees trust the people they work for, have pride in what they do and enjoy the people with whom they work.

Tom O'Byrne, Chief Executive for Great Place to Work[®] Institute commented:

“On behalf of everyone at Great Place to Work, I congratulate all our winners for their outstanding achievement in being ranked one of the UK's Best Workplaces for 2011. Being a great place to work is more than just good pay and perks. It's about good leadership – not just about commanding trust and respect but setting an example by giving it.”

The Great Place to Work[®] Institute is a global research and management consultancy with expertise in workplace transformation and employee excellence. It works with some of the largest and most respected companies in the world to transform their workplaces into powerful sources of competitive advantage.
